

2019 HAGERSTOWN TECHNOLOGY SHOWCASE

TIME SCHEDULE OF EVENTS

10:00 AM ARRIVAL, REGISTRATION AND NETWORKING

10:30 AM WELCOME AND OPENING REMARKS

Speakers:

Janice I. Riley, TIC Manager at Hagerstown Community College - Host

Amanda Johnston, Executive Director, Fort Detrick Alliance – Host and Sponsor

Paul Zielinski, Director, Technology Partnerships Office (TPO), National Institute of Standards and Technology (NIST) - Sponsor

11:00AM TECHNOLOGY TRANSFER SESSION

NIH IS OPEN FOR BUSINESS

Did you know that you can license NIH developed technology to start a company around and/or expand your product line? No...don't worry, you're not alone. We're going to walk you through how you can take advantage of this process and explain how it's done.

Moderator:

Joseph M. Conrad III, JD, PhD, Senior Technology Transfer Specialist NCI, TTC, IDMU
"Working with the NCI to Advance Your Bottom Line"

Panelists:

Ajoy K. Prabhu, MS, MBA, Chief, Marketing Unit, OTT

"Working with OTT - a One Stop Shop for all NIH and CDC Opportunities"

Haiqing Li, M.D., Ph.D., Senior Technology Transfer and Patent Specialist, NIAID, TTIPO

"Partner with Industry to Achieve NIAID's Mission"

Michael Shmilovich, Senior Licensing & Patenting Manager, NHLBI

"Access to NHLBI Technologies"

Q&A to FOLLOW...

12:15 PM BREAK (Pick up Box Lunch & eat through beginning of next session.)

12:45 PM SBIR/STTR SESSION

NON-DILUTIVE FUNDING AND RESOURCES FOR STARTUPS FROM THE NIH SBIR/STTR PROGRAMS

Learn how the National Institutes of Health (NIH) provides non-dilutive seed funding for life science start-ups, innovators and entrepreneurs through their Small Business Innovation Research Program (SBIR) which includes not only funding, but programming, support staff and training for entrepreneurs throughout the lifecycle of the development and commercialization process for innovative products and services in life sciences.

Moderator:

Mike Pieck, Small Business Coordinator, NHLBI SBIR Office

Panelists:

Ashim Subedee, PhD, Program Director, NCI SBIR Development Center

Adam Sorkin, Entrepreneur in Residence, NIAID

Lyndon Joseph, PhD, Health Scientist Administrator, NIA SBIR Committee member

Q&A to FOLLOW...

2:00PM - 3:00PM

1-ON-1 PARTNERING
